

Securitas' Values and Ethics Code

Every day and wherever we work, we all make a difference by keeping our clients' assets and people safe. Each and every one of us is responsible for making sure that nothing ever compromises our commitment to our core values – Integrity, Vigilance and Helpfulness – or the principles of Securitas' Values and Ethics Code. At Securitas, our managers have a special responsibility to set a good example. By working in a sustainable and compliant way, we protect our good reputation and our strong brand. We want to be the leading company in the industry when it comes to sustainability.

We have always emphasized the importance of having a strong culture and core values in order to offer our clients the best team in the security services industry. These efforts have made our company the leader in our industry today.

Our core values form the foundation for the entire company with regard to our high ethical standards and responsibilities. They guide our way of working and how we manage and operate our client relationships. These values date back to the 1950s but remain equally valid today.

At Securitas, we all aim to do what is right when it comes to our clients, our employees and society. Securitas' Values and Ethics Code provides guidance in this area. As an employee or business partner, you are expected to follow this Code and other key policies to ensure compliance with applicable laws and our own values and principles.

Our strong values have been played a key role in our successful journey, and we have now formulated a purpose that together with our values truly reflects Securitas' important role in society: We help make your world a safer place.

We promote an environment of openness, and if you are aware of a situation or action that you think might constitute a violation of the Code, the law or another Group policy, it is your responsibility to report this as soon as possible. Non-compliance with Securitas' Values and Ethics Code can result not only in lost revenues, penalties or fines, but also in difficulties in recruiting and in damage to our reputation and brand.

You make a difference in our outstanding Securitas team!

Introduction

WHY WE HAVE SECURITAS' VALUES AND ETHICS CODE

At Securitas, we place a strong emphasis on ethics, integrity and compliance. We want to be a good corporate citizen, and a strong and trusted partner to our shareholders, clients, employees and other stakeholders. Securitas is strongly committed to upholding the highest ethical business standards and compliance with laws, rules and regulations.

Maintaining high ethical standards and upholding our shared values are a vital part of all of Securitas' operations and form the foundation on which our clients, employees, shareholders and other stakeholders base their confidence in Securitas. These principles also play an important role in maintaining the strong value of the Securitas brand and in promoting long-term sustainability and growth for our global business.

Securitas' Values and Ethics Code (the Code) is one of Securitas' key corporate policies and a guide to how we are expected to act, individually and collectively, in our daily work.

While the Code provides guidance on how we are to act in an ethical and compliant way, it is not possible to cover every situation that may arise in the day-to-day business of Securitas' global operations. Therefore, each employee and business partner has a responsibility to use his/her sound judgment and act in line with our values. As a complement to the Code, there are other more detailed policies and guidelines.

INTRODUCTION

OUR CODE APPLIES TO EVERYONE

Our employees must be guided by our core values – Integrity, Vigilance and Helpfulness – be loyal, ethical and honest, have integrity and treat others with dignity, and respect and comply with our policies and the law. This is particularly important since we are a service company in the security industry, and clients and others put their trust in us to help them protect their people and assets.

It is the responsibility of Securitas as a company and all Securitas employees, directors and officers to understand and comply with the Code. Securitas also expects all of its business partners – including joint venture partners, suppliers and sub-contractors – to abide by the principles of the Code.

Our managers have a responsibility to make sure that their teams are familiar with the Code and other policies. Each employee must also be aware of and follow the Code and all relevant policies, and ask questions if something is unclear.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You have a responsibility to understand and comply with the Code and other relevant policies, to use your sound judgment and act in line with our values, and to seek advice from your local head of compliance if something is unclear. If you receive instructions or are asked to do something that goes against our values, the Code or our other policies, you must report this as soon as possible.

Let us know

If you find yourself in a situation that feels uncomfortable from an ethical point of view, or where you feel that Securitas' values are at stake or compromised, you have a duty to make yourself heard. Receiving instructions from a more senior employee or manager does not change that.

If you as an employee, director, officer or business partner want to report a violation of the Code, you should inform your manager and a representative from HR or Legal. If you find it difficult to bring up an issue locally, if a reported matter is not resolved or if the allegation is of a serious or sensitive nature, it should be reported through one of the following channels:

A more detailed description of the reporting procedure, its purpose and use can be found in the Securitas Integrity Reporting Policy.

All reports will be investigated. As far as reasonably and legally possible, the information provided by an employee will be treated confidentially, and no employee will be discriminated against for reporting, in good faith, what are believed to be possible violations of the Code. Employees who make such a report will receive feedback as appropriate. Anyone who retaliates against an employee for reporting a case of non-compliance in good faith will be subject to disciplinary action.

Securitas monitors compliance with the Code on a regular basis, using information reported through the various channels available.

Acts that are inconsistent with the Code must be corrected as soon as possible, and employees who violate the Code are subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

Where a violation of the Code results in an offence punishable by law, Securitas may notify the authorities of such violations.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

If you come across a situation or actions that you think go against our values, such as information about incidents of wrong-doing or non-compliance with the Code, the law or another Group policy, report this as soon as possible. There will be no reprisals or other negative consequences if you report in good faith.

Securitas' purpose as a company:

We help make your world a safer place

Our purpose reminds us that, every day when we go to work, we are contributing to something greater – our purpose is the reason we exist. Our purpose is at the very core of our strategy and it will help create value for us. It will help us sustain profitable growth, to remain relevant in a rapidly changing world, and deepen our ties with our stakeholders.

Our operations are based on three core values: Integrity, Vigilance and Helpfulness

INTEGRITY

Integrity means being honest and acting in an ethical way. Securitas is uncompromising in its demands on integrity and truthfulness, and we insist on our employees' right to openly express their opinions and their duty to report improprieties and other relevant information without risking reprisals.

VIGILANCE

Vigilance means actively paying attention. Our employees must be fully attentive and able to observe, listen and evaluate in order to protect our clients' premises and property and the values and ethics that Securitas represents.

HELPFULNESS

Helpfulness means being service-oriented and accommodating to our clients, colleagues and others who require assistance, whenever needed.

THE TOOLBOX

Securitas' management model, the Toolbox, is used to spread the company's corporate culture and create a shared platform through our values. All employees are expected to take responsibility for our clients and operations, and for our shared values.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You play an important part in ensuring we fulfil our purpose together – you make the difference.

Human rights

Respect for human rights is vital to Securitas and how we conduct our daily business. Securitas supports and respects the fundamental human rights set out in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (including those expressed in the International Bill of Rights) and recognizes our responsibility to promote and observe those rights when conducting our global business.

Securitas is a signatory of the United Nations Global Compact and we support the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), taking relevant SDGs into consideration in our strategy work and our daily operations.

Together with the Securitas People and Diversity Policy and the Securitas Human Rights Policy, the Code shows our commitment to respect human rights. As a security company, we recognize that we must carefully assess the potential risks of violating human rights through the services that we, our joint venture partners, suppliers and sub-contractors provide.

 WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?
 You must treat colleagues and others that you have contact with as a representative of Securitas with respect and dignity.

Compliance with local laws and regulations

Securitas is a global company. All employees and business partners must always comply with the laws, rules and regulations of the countries in which we operate. The Code represents the base and is to be followed in all of Securitas' operations, even if it is stricter than local legislation.

Local Securitas entities may adopt and apply principles that are stricter or more detailed than those set out in the Code. If local rules are issued, they apply in addition to the Code.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You must always comply with all relevant laws, rules, regulations and policies.

Employees

Securitas is a people company and our people are our greatest assets.

Securitas wants to be known for having employees who live Securitas' purpose and shared values and feel proud and passionate about Securitas. Securitas believes in diversity and we aim to be a solid, trustworthy and stable employer, and promote relationships based on mutual respect and dignity.

We strongly believe in the connection between the competence of our employees and the result we achieve. We want to attract and retain people who share our values and can provide the best client service in the market. To achieve this, Securitas strives to be an attractive employer that offers good working conditions, fair wages and opportunities for personal development. Managers at all levels have a particular responsibility to lead by example.

Terms of employment and compensation

Securitas recognizes the importance of fair wages, reasonable working hours and benefits. We work to raise wages and benefits to a level that meets or exceeds the national legislation or minimum industry standards. Wages should be paid regularly and on time. Working hours and other employment terms should be in compliance with local laws and industry standards. Information on wages and benefits as well as other terms of employment are to be communicated clearly to each employee.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You have the right to terms and conditions that are in compliance with local laws and industry standards. It is your responsibility to understand your own employment conditions and ask if something is unclear.

Freedom of association

Securitas respects the rights of all employees to choose whether or not to be represented by a trade union for the purpose of collective bargaining and to form and join the trade union or workers' association of their choice in accordance with local laws and principles. This includes respecting the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association. You should never risk being harassed or retaliated against for exercising these rights.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

It is your decision whether or not to be represented by a trade union or workers' association, or to form or join a trade union or workers' association.

Occupational health and safety

Securitas recognizes the importance of providing a safe and healthy work environment and taking all reasonable steps to prevent accidents and injuries as well as supporting measures to promote health and well-being. Risk assessments should be carried out to identify and scope safety hazards, and employees should receive training, instructions and equipment in line with the assignment.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You have the right to a safe work environment, and you have a responsibility to help create this. You must always comply with all local health and safety policies, rules and regulations. You should also report health and safety issues and risks to your manager or to the health and safety representative.

Alcohol and/or drug abuse

It is important for Securitas that all employees are "fit for work" and free from any adverse effects due to alcohol or drug use when at work. Securitas strives for an alcohol and drug-free workplace.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You must refrain from any alcohol and/or drug use that may affect your work.

Diversity and equal opportunity

Securitas is an equal opportunity employer and all employees are to be treated and treat others fairly and equally, without any type of discrimination. We believe that diversity and inclusion form the foundation for innovation and creativity and that diverse teams contribute to our success and long-term sustainable growth.

All employees in Securitas, and especially managers at all levels, have a responsibility to create an environment where people feel a sense of commitment to their work and are recognized for their achievements and where employees support each other and cooperate rather than compete.

Discrimination in hiring, compensation, training, promotion, termination or retirement based on race, ethnic or national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation, marital or parental status, disability or other distinguishing characteristics protected by applicable law and regulations is never acceptable.

All employment decisions are to be made solely based on a person's ability, experience, behavior, work performance and demonstrated potential in relation to the needs of the job.

 WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?
 You should be able to work in an open and diverse environment, and you have a responsibility to contribute to a diverse workplace and to treat your colleagues with respect and dignity.

Child labor or forced labor

Securitas does not employ or accept any form of child labor or forced or bonded labor.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You must comply with local laws, regulations and license requirements concerning minimum age.

You should never have to surrender your passport, identification documents or work permit as a condition for employment.

Social networking

Securitas respects the individual's right to free speech and freedom to express one's opinion. However, only employees expressly designated to do so are authorized to make public statements on behalf of Securitas. Employees and business partners who engage in activities in social media that show an association with or refer to Securitas must behave in ways that are consistent with Securitas' values and policies.

Confidential and sensitive information about Securitas, our clients or client sites – for example, client name, location, equipment, colleagues, schedules, services provided and vehicles – should never be disclosed.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You have a right to express your opinion freely but must protect confidential or sensitive information about Securitas and our clients. If you are active on social media, you should act according to Securitas' values and policies.

Business ethics

Securitas insists on honesty, integrity and fairness, and we are strongly committed to upholding and promoting the highest ethical business standards in all aspects of our business.

As an industry leader, Securitas has far-reaching responsibilities towards the countries and communities where we operate. We practice good corporate citizenship and comply with laws and regulations in our countries of operation. Securitas also has a responsibility to drive the development of the entire security industry. By cooperating with trade organizations, unions, public authorities and law enforcement, Securitas helps develop services and the market as a whole, with the goal of raising standards and wages in the industry.

Fair competition and anti-trust

Securitas believes in fair trade and honest competition, based on integrity, product quality, price and client service. While you as a representative of Securitas may join associations in order to advance the industry, it is strictly prohibited to discuss or enter into agreements with competitors on pricing, market shares or similar illegal activities. We are firmly committed to respecting all applicable laws and regulations promoting fair competition.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You must never discuss or agree with competitors on pricing, market shares or similar, and you must always follow all relevant laws and regulations regarding fair competition.

Bribery and corruption

Securitas strives to offer the best possible services targeted to our clients' specific needs, and we expect to be selected as a provider of security services based on merit, in a free and fair competitive environment.

We believe that corruption undermines legitimate business, distorts competition and brings serious risk to our brand and our reputation.

Securitas has zero tolerance for all forms of bribery and corruption, and we must never offer, solicit or receive bribes, other advantages, facilitation payments or other illegal payments to obtain or retain business. A bribe includes all financial or other advantages that are given, promised, offered, accepted, requested or received with the intention that a specific activity should be performed.

All business transactions must be lawful and carried out in the best interest of Securitas. We must only do business with respectable business partners involved in lawful business activities and whose funds are derived from legitimate sources.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You have a responsibility to understand and comply with Securitas' policies regarding bribery and corruption. You must never offer, solicit or receive bribes, other advantages, facilitation payments or other illegal payments to obtain or retain business. Entertainment, gifts, gratuities and donations

Securitas should always be, and be perceived as, professional and independent in our interactions with our business partners. Purchasing and sales activities must be handled with the utmost integrity. Employees and business partners should not give or accept any gifts, gratuities or entertainment offers that could influence business transactions, or the employee's, business partner's or client's decision making. Gifts of minor value are sometimes part of local business culture, and may be accepted as long as they are acceptable with regard to our values and policies and permitted according to local laws, rules and regulations.

Local Securitas entities are expected to implement more detailed guidelines and principles for what is acceptable at the local level, in compliance with applicable laws and the Code.

 WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?
 It is your responsibility to understand and comply with Securitas' policies and guidelines regarding entertainment, gifts, gratuities and donations. Conflicts of interest

Our business decisions must always be based on objective reasons and criteria, and never be influenced by an employee's personal relationships, activities outside Securitas or financial interests. Conflicts of interest can impact the decisions we make, harm our brand and reputation, and create mistrust within and outside the company.

A conflict of interest exists when an employee's private interests interfere in any way with the interests of Securitas. A conflict situation can, for example, arise if you as an employee take actions or have interests that may make it difficult to perform your work objectively and efficiently.

Employees and business partners must avoid all conflicts of interest or perceived conflicts of interest between their personal activities and their part in the conduct of Securitas' business. Business transactions between Securitas and parties related to an employee, such as family members, relatives, friends, suppliers, clients or competitors, are only permitted under exceptional circumstances and after "grandfather approval", that is, by your manager's manager. Grandfather approval is also required when members of the same family are employed or where there are close personal relationships between employees.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You must make a strict separation between business decisions and personal interests. This includes not having any direct or indirect personal business connections (such as through a family member, relative or friend) with our clients, suppliers or competitors and only acting on Securitas' behalf. If a situation arises that could lead to a conflict of interest, you must immediately disclose it to your manager or the legal department to get advice. Approval should be obtained according to the grandfather principle, that is, from your manager's manager.

Protecting Securitas' property and resources

Securitas has both tangible and intangible assets. Examples of tangible assets are equipment, real estate and products. Intangible assets include brands, trademarks, know-how and trade secrets.

Securitas has a strong brand, built up over many years. The entire value of our long history of providing professional security services is vested in the Securitas trademark. Securitas must work to safeguard our trademark and brand, and respect the valid intellectual property rights of others.

Securitas' property, resources and information systems are vital to our business. We must always protect and keep them secure from unauthorized use, damage, disclosure, diversion or removal, whether through accident, improper act or breach of trust. Securitas' resources must be used responsibly and not be wasted or abused. This includes company computers and digital communication systems that must not be used for inappropriate communication, such as illegal activities, harassment or behavior that can be considered offensive or discriminatory.

Office supplies, electronic communication equipment, computers, mobile phones, IT systems and premises must be used for business purposes only and users should not have any expectation of privacy regarding information or communication using such tools. Limited personal use of computers and mobile phones can be permitted, according to local policies.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You are responsible for protecting and keeping Securitas' property, resources and information systems secure from unauthorized use, damage, disclosure, diversion or removal. You must use Securitas' resources responsibly and not waste or abuse them, which includes not using Securitas' computers, IT systems or telephones for communication or viewing of material that can be inappropriate or downloading unapproved programs. You must never use private computers, mobile phones, e-mail addresses or similar for business matters.

Political contributions, political activities and lobbying

Securitas does not contribute corporate funds, assets or services to support a government entity, political organization, party or candidate. Any exceptions must be approved in advance by the President and CEO of Securitas AB.

Employees are free to participate in lawful political life in their private time and in their capacity as private citizens.

Lobbying aims to influence the actions, policies or decisions of officials, such as legislators or regulatory agencies. Lobbying can be carried out by contributing information or opinions to certain officials. Lobbying activities can include both direct communication with the officials or support to professional lobbyists. Lobbying is regulated in certain countries.

Only employees authorized to do so may engage in lobbying on behalf of Securitas. The lobbying activities must be appropriate in relation to Securitas' business and must always be in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations. Lobbying should also be done in an honest way, and with integrity and respect.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

You are free to participate in lawful political life in your private time and in your capacity as a private citizen, but you must not use, or consent to the use of, any corporate funds, resources or facilities to support a government entity, political organization, party or candidate. You may only engage in lobbying on behalf of Securitas if you are authorized to do so.

Government work

Some of our clients are government agencies or public and international authorities or agencies. Securitas is strongly committed to abiding by all applicable laws and regulations relating to working with governments and public authorities, including certain special requirements associated with government contracts and transactions.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

If your work involves work with governments or public authorities, you have a responsibility to be extra cautious and be aware of relevant laws, regulations and policies.

Tax management

Securitas' approach to tax seeks to align with the long-term interests of all our stakeholders, including governments, shareholders, employees and communities.

We must meet our legal obligation to pay the correct amount of tax due in relation to our business activities and model, and we must not engage in any tax planning that may harm Securitas' business operations, reputation and stakeholders. We strive to meet our obligations of paying the relevant cash taxes due and ensuring accurate and timely reporting and submissions of our tax returns.

Securitas' purpose is "We help make your world a safer place." We play an important role in society, providing security and safety in a sustainable way. We are committed to being a good corporate citizen wherever we conduct business, and we recognize the importance of a proactive and continuous social dialogue with all our stakeholders. Through our entities, we interact with the local communities and strive to contribute to their positive development. We encourage local, regional and global community investment activities that are in line with our purpose, strategy and values.

 WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?
 You are encouraged to contribute to your local community through your work at Securitas. You must make sure that the activities are in line with Securitas' values and policies.

Sponsorship

Securitas' sponsorship activities should be integrated with our other communication activities to highlight our premium Securitas brand. Sponsorship must be well organized and based on Securitas' Values and Ethic Code and our brand guidelines.

The objective is that sponsorship should contribute to a positive image of our company, strengthen the brand and make our employees feel proud to work for Securitas. We should always link our sponsorship to our business.

All sponsorship activities must be covered by a written agreement. The agreement should be approved by local legal experts, in accordance with local laws and tax regulations.

 WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?
 You have a responsibility to know what activities Securitas may sponsor. You must also make sure that a sponsorship is not a form of hidden corruption - for example, if you are asked to contribute to a specific organization, such as a person's or a government authority's charity, in order to secure a contract.

Implementation and compliance

The Divisional President, Function Head or equivalent is responsible for ensuring the implementation of the Code in his/her division, region or area of responsibility. The Country President, Regional President or equivalent, together with the person responsible for compliance, have the ultimate responsibility for the proper implementation of the Code by all employees and business partners within their respective territory. This includes the signing of the Code by all employees and training of all employees in the Code.

The Code must also be communicated and implemented, to the greatest extent possible, in all business partner relationships.

Implementation of and compliance with the Code will be monitored on an ongoing basis as part of the country risk management process and the Enterprise Risk Management process. The Code is reviewed annually. Securitas AB's Board of Directors has the ultimate responsibility for the Code.

A more detailed description of the reporting procedure, its purpose and use can be found in the Securitas Integrity Reporting Policy.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOU?

It is the responsibility of each Securitas employee, officer and director to read, understand and comply with the Code. You also have a responsibility to report suspected or known misconduct or non-compliance with the Code.
